DETAILED ACTIONDouble Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claim 9 is provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-5 of copending Application No. 10/701610.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the preamble recitation of a charge generation material is seen as an inherent property of the compounds presented in the copending claims. The compounds of the copending claims have the same formula as those of the instant claim. Consequently, the property of a charge generation material must be the same.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim 9 is provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-7 of copending Application No. 10/516884.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because the preamble recitation of a charge generation material is seen as an inherent property of the compounds presented in the copending claims. The compounds of the copending claims have the same formula as those of the instant claim. Consequently, the property of a charge generation material must be the same.

Allowable Subject Matter

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the previously applied art rejection over JP 4-362653 is overcome based on applicant's remarks. Specifically, the art does not provide sufficient motivation to produce a heterometal phthalo/naphthalo cyanine compound according to the instant claims because the JP reference only discloses and suggests the same metal for each phthalo/naphthalo cyanine ring. The reference teaches away from using different metals in each phthalo/naphthalo cyanine ring for the bridged compounds.
